

Remote Teams

The new Go Language's growing success has one major obstacle: a lack of available skilled programmers. So, at Go Naviro, we've developed an elegant solution that opens up a global talent pool for you: a capsule of remote Go programmers selected and managed for your particular project.

Our Capsule product allows you to scale up quickly and remotely, with each stage from the Job Spec briefing through to selecting and interviewing candidates optimized. And with our detailed knowledge of Go projects, we can anticipate your front and back-end needs throughout.
